

Happy Holidays from Rebedew Ranch

2019

Merry Christmas, Happy Holidays, and Happy New Year! It seems like this year has gone by so quickly, it is hard to believe it is already nearly over.

Zoe is now 1½ and she is learning new things every day. She is walking, though still prefers to have a hand to hold onto most of the time.

Zoe loves animals and enjoyed going to the zoo and to some petting zoos over the course of this year. She loves reading books, playing with her baby dolls, dancing, and taking baths. As an early Christmas present she got a vacuum cleaner, we are hoping she can take over the house cleaning in 2020.

The house kitties (Chole, Tink, and Stripey) are doing well. Tink is Zoe's special kitty and often jumps into her crib when we go to get Zoe up in the morning or after naps. She even lets Zoe, Lovey, Woof Woof, Baby, and Zoe's other special toys take turns petting her. The black and white barn kitties (Boot, Tux, and Patches) are enjoying their adventures outdoors while also appreciating the shelter and food available to them in the barn.

Loki and Sonny are enjoying hanging out together in the pastures and eating lots of grass. Zoe loves to visit them and bring them apples.

David has had some changes in his roles at work. He works at Monroe Clinic supervising the residents, seeing patients in some of the local nursing homes, and serving as medical director of three nursing homes. He has also started to work some 24 hour shifts in an Emergency Department in Friendship, Wisconsin. I continue to work as a pediatrician at Monroe Clinic. This year I became the chair of the pediatrics department and am excited about a number of projects that I am working on to improve the care we provide.

With love,
~Katie, David, & Zoe
